Bluey Day is back for Fort St. John's bravest.

The Fort St. John Hospital Foundation is seeking 50 brave shavers to help raise $100,000 during the 18th annual Bluey Day. Donations collected by shavers will help to purchase cancer diagnostic and treatment equipment at the Fort St. John Hospital.

This year Bluey Day will be hosted on May 27 at the BC Ambulance bay on 96th Street. Registration is now open and packages are available at the Fort St. John Hospital Foundation office. Call 250-261-7563 or email fsjhf@northernhealth.ca for more information.

Hospital wins at Have a Heart Poker Tournament

The 9th annual Have a Heart Charity Poker Tournament, hosted by 101.5FM The Bear and Chances Gaming Centre, raised $2,880 for the Foundation.

Proceeds from the tournament, held February 11th, have been directed towards the purchase of a Vein Viewer. Using infrared light, a Vein Viewer projects an image of the patient's veins onto their skin so that lab assistants can easily insert needles to take blood, or insert an IV. It's able to map out veins up to 1 cm deep, determine vein diameter, orientation, valve locations, and spot rolling veins and hematomas.

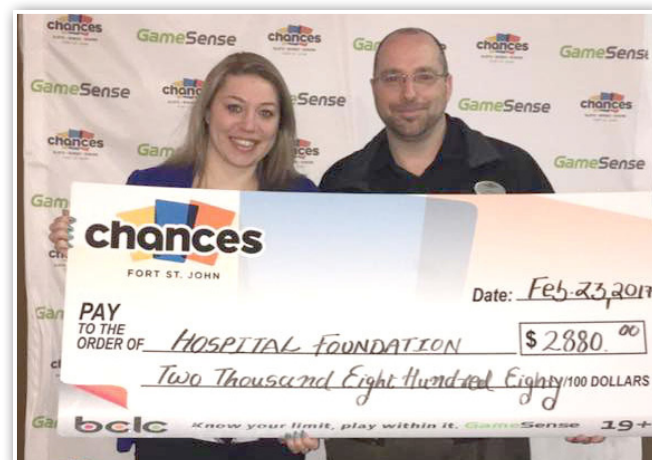

The wonderful ladies from Coach Barbers will be taking care of the shaving again this year.
